

The Boulder Lab is open at limited capacity as of Monday, June 1st!

Reopening Policies:

- We plan to start slow so that we can test our new procedures and make any necessary adjustments.
- Please fill out our climbing waiver previous to visiting the Boulder Lab.

- Capacity limits are defined by the state. Right now that limit sits at 50% of max occupancy.. We plan to start conservatively with 20 climbers at a time. We will expand capacity as we become confident in our systems to control social distance.
- Reservations are available one week in advance
- For now we are asking that you limit yourself to 3 reservations per week so that everyone can have an opportunity to climb.
- We are asking everyone to check in at the front desk upon arrival to confirm your reservation and get checked in. Please check out when you leave.
- We will continue to offer Boulder Fit on Facebook Live weekly.

Safety Measures:

- Face coverings are required for anyone entering the building, including staff. Masks may be removed while climbing or during exercise. You must wear your mask anytime you are not actively climbing or exercising, this includes resting between climbs. This is not only a state requirement but also the responsible thing to do.
- Members must observe social distancing of at least 6-feet while on the premises. We are asking that only active climbers or spotters are on the pad at any given time. We have placed markers on the ground off the pad as a waiting area for the next climber.
- Keep a minimum of 6 feet between yourself and other climbers. If your neighbor is climbing a route on the zone boundary either wait for them to finish.
- To ensure social distancing only 5 people will be able to enter the cardio deck. Equipment has been moved throughout the facility to prevent congested spaces. Cardio and exercise equipment has been spaced approximately 10 feet apart.
- Hand sanitizer will be available and its use will be required to enter the facility. Best practice will be to sanitize hands after each boulder problem is attempted.
- Staff or participants will not be permitted to enter if they have a fever or are presenting symptoms of Covid-19.
- If you feel sick, are experiencing symptoms of COVID-19, or have recently been in contact with a high-risk individual you should not come to the gym.
